

MIMIC WAR PLAN BRINGS TERROR TO SHORE DWELLERS

Dread Effect of Firing of Immense Guns at Fort Hamilton.

MANY LEAVE HOMES.

Shells Will Fly Over Sea Gate During Uncle Sam's Target Practice.

Formal warning from Col. Henry L. Ludlow, commander at Fort Hamilton, to throw windows open and remove choice chinaware, bric-a-brac, mirrors and stationery ornaments from walls and closets of residences within a mile of the big twelve-inch cannons when the Government field practice starts to-morrow at 1 o'clock, has added terror to the alarm of 100,000 persons living about Bay Ridge and Bensonhurst, Sea Gate and Coney Island.

Final appeals to Secretary of War Taft to veto the War Department's orders or reduce the practice to the six-inch guns, has failed to bring a favorable reply, and to-day New Yorkers living in these popular summer places are in mortal dread of the experiments which threaten to tear up the earth, set buildings shaking, injure feeble ear drums and, in fine, so frighten old and young that many have already sought refuge outside the dangerous firing zone.

Small Guns Bad Enough.

It was announced from the Fort to-day that 500 artillerists, the pick of the United States Army, will begin firing to-morrow with five twelve-inch, one ten-inch and four six-inch guns at distances of from 1,300 yards to ten miles down New York Bay. Members of the Thirtieth and Forty-seventh Regiments, New York National Guard Artillery Reserve, will participate, while officers from army posts throughout the country will attend.

Never before have officers directing army maneuvers resorted to experiments with the twelve-inch field gun, one of the most powerful and thunderous of war weapons, hurling shells and projectiles weighing a ton, about New York City. This year, however, following an agitation regarding the possible defense of New York Bay in case of war, the War Department directed a thorough drill of the big forts, Hamilton and Wadsworth, under four regular artillery lieutenants.

The earth shook, buildings quaked, windows were smashed for a mile about and interior decorations were broken on the floor following the discharge of the six-inch guns last season. One venturesome sloop which disregarded the course patrol found itself narrowly dodging a shell which would have blown it to atoms. The effect of the six-inch gun is known to suburban residents. What the consequences of the detonation following the firing of the twelve-inch gun will bring has caused the wild edge of fright which has thoroughly gripped these sections.

Tugs on Patrol.

In every way the drill is to approach a real war spectacle. Targets will be dropped in the Lower Bay beginning to-morrow morning at six o'clock from government tugs at distances down to ten miles. A hundred tugs will puff up and down the course, warning intruding vessels. Persons within a radius of fifteen miles will see great shells describing a circular course half a mile in the air and gracefully descending on an ill-fated target some- where in the Bay. A spectacular feature of the practice will be the hurling of the shells over a portion of Sea Gate.

Col. Ludlow called his aides to his quarters to-day and discussed plans for the drill. He received a delegation from the Sea Gate Business Men's Association protesting against the danger of the practice and the inevitable damage to property following the booming of the giant guns. Col. Ludlow politely replied that his orders would be obeyed unless countermanded to-night.

Gives Them Warning.

"My only advice to you," said the artillery chief, "is to return to your homes and bear in mind a little warning. To-morrow about 10 o'clock throw open your windows and place all stationery ornaments and glassware on your beds or cushions. Possibly the discharge of the big guns will rattle the buildings, but I trust not. No one will be hurt and there is no reason for such drastic measures. I am sorry to be forced to disappoint you."

Even the Colonel's kind but firm words failed to convince the populace that something dreadful isn't going to happen when the cannonading commences to-morrow. Demolished homes and wrecked lawns, broken streets and ruined sidewalks are some of the visions of destruction conjured up by residents in this section, and they refuse to be satisfied that such calamities will not follow the explosion of the big 12-inch rifles.

Lieut. A. H. Sunderland, C. B. Alley, O. G. Collins and A. F. Casad will have charge of the artillery practice. These men are experts in handling coast defense rifles and will afterward report to the Secretary of War on the experiments.

SENATOR BAILEY BETTER.

The physicians in attendance upon Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, who underwent an operation on his throat at the Walter Antonio recently report to-day that his condition is greatly improved.

U. S. GRAND JURY INDICTS UNDER ANTI-TRUST LAW

Bills Handed to Judge Hough To-Day, but Names Are Kept Secret.

Indictments have been found in the Federal Court for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law by certain commercial interests. This much was admitted to-day by an Evening World reporter by Assistant United States District Attorney John W. H. Crim, who is connected with the trust-busting bureau on the fifth floor of the Post-Office Building.

Mr. Crim has been connected with an investigation of the Manila Paper and Fibre Manufacturers' Association, alleged to have been regulating selling prices under the Parks pooling plan.

Refuses to Discuss Them.

"I cannot discuss the indictments which I handed to Judge Hough this forenoon," said Mr. Crim. "I have specific instructions to say nothing from United States District Attorney Henry L. Stimson, who is absent from the city and who will not return until the last of the week."

"Could you say whether the indictments have been found in connection with the paper dealers' alleged conspiracy or in connection with the investigation of the New York Cotton Exchange, which is said to arbitrarily fix the price of cotton?" was asked.

"When I left Washington last night I was instructed to keep mum," replied Mr. Crim.

The Federal Grand Jury came into the Criminal Branch of the United States Circuit Court to-day and handed up a number of indictments to Judge Hough.

Placed Under Seal.

Among the indictments handed to Judge Hough was one in printed form which United States Assistant District Attorney Crim, who has had charge of the investigation of the paper manufacturers case, asked to have placed under the seal of the court for several days, or until all those mentioned in the indictments had been apprehended. Judge Hough granted the request and issued bench warrants for the arrest of those named in the indictments.

CHILD'S ACHING TOOTH PREVENTED DEATHS AT FIRE

Little Lucy Josephs, Unable to Sleep, Smelled Smoke and Gave Alarm.

Fifty persons were hemmed in the apartment-house at No. 241 Eighth avenue, near One Hundred and Thirty-second street, by fire at 4:30 A. M. to-day, and some of them would have perished had not a little child suffering with a throbbing tooth given the alarm.

On the first floor of the house lived Benjamin Josephs, his wife and two children, Lucy, five, and Annie, three. Lucy had been suffering from an aching tooth all through the night, and was unable to sleep during the morning hours. She suddenly called to her father:

"I wish you'd stop smoking so much."

Mr. Josephs went to the child and then discovered there was a fire in the hallway outside his door. He got his family to the street and sounded the alarm. Some of the tenants ran down the stairs, but those on the top floor made for the rear fire-escapes, where they stayed until firemen raised ladders and took them down.

The fire was put out after it had done about $800 damage. The origin of the blaze has not been determined.

Emancipation of the Fat Folks

To have to sit through the hot weather quiet as a log, scarcely daring to breathe simply because one is so fat the least exertion will start the perspiration in a stream, is not a very lively prospect. But it has been the lot of the fat since time began until now.

Fat folks have been emancipated from hot weather misery, at last, by a home mixture: 4 ounce Marmola, 4 ounce Fluid Extract Cereals Aromatic, and 3 1/2 ounces Sirup Simplex, of which they take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime until which time a very long time they have just all the fat they care to.

Simple and inexpensive (any druggist will fill it for a small sum) as this receipt is, the results it obtains are unequalled. Some folks have lost as much as a pound a day within a week after starting. Yet, radical and delightful as such an effect is, there is no fear of wrinkles or stomach troubles; the mixture is harmless except to the fat itself.
